

DIANA C. CALDERONE, M.D.

DERMATOLOGY

THROUGHOUT HER LIFE, DR. DIANA CALDERONE HAS NUTURED AN INTEREST FOR COMPLEX CREATURES, SUCH AS ANIMALS, INSECTS AND, OF COURSE, PEOPLE.

In fact, to this day, this medical and cosmetic dermatologist is still in awe when discovering the human body. “I love the science of the human body, the treatment of disease and exploring its complexity,” Dr. Calderone says. “I also feel honored, being given the trust and ability to help cure a patient’s disease. It’s a human connection, so I feel gratitude helping someone through an illness and enhancing someone’s life.”

Dr. Calderone, board certified in dermatology, specializes in treating skin cancer and the effects of sun damage from mild to severe cases and about 50 percent of her time is dedicated to cancer surgery. She also offers aesthetic approaches toward the devastating effects of skin cancer coupled with a no-nonsense, cost-effective approach toward aesthetic skin enhancement. “Cancer is an overwhelming and progressively growing problem, but I’m dedicated to helping patients fight it,” she adds, “I can also offer truthful guidance, that is evidence-based, regarding skin care products and aesthetic services.”

Dr. Calderone is a third-generation Tampa resident who enjoys traveling and reading. She also loves to spend time with her family, especially her daughters, Sofia and Daniela.
